

Step 4: Project Description

Initial and Final Due Date: Third Week

For this milestone your group will provide a one-paragraph description of the proposed project, along with some information about who will use your software and why.

Meet with your Client

In order to do this you will need to meet with your client. Before you do that, check the videos shown at the end of this material, especially the bits about talking to your client.

Some of the main questions that you will need to ask your client:

1. What is your name? How will we communicate with you (email, phone, face-to-face)? How often can we bother you with questions?
2. What do you do? What does your business do? How does it generate revenue?
3. Why do you want this app? How are you handling things now without an app? Show me.

Deliverables

Add a one-paragraph page to your wiki called "Project Description" which describes what your project will be. Focus on the goals of the project: what the app will achieve (not so much on what it will look like). This is meant to be your general vision statement. Also specify the platform you are targeting.
